CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by PETER TIMOTHY, Printer to the Honourable the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY, at his Office on the BAY, near the Exchange.

From the LONDON CHRONICLE, March 17.

THE ſtate of America is now becoming the ſubject of ſerious conſideration.—Every real friend to that country and to this muſt rejoice that it is ſo. Not only the diſtreſs of both countries, from the preſent meaſures, calls for that conſideration, but, what is of the utmoſt moment, the prevention of a national enmity being ſubſtituted for that confidence, which formerly cemented us together. That enmity muſt inevitably ariſe from continuing a ſyſtematic attempt in one part of the empire, to employ its ſuperior force in ſubduing the other to her will. Can it but be felt as an act of tyranny, never to be forgiven, if we employ our power not for the purpoſe of protection, but of oppreſſion.

But this deliberation muſt, to anſwer any great and good purpoſe, be conducted with candour, juſtice and wiſdom. Temporary expedients, violent, partial and precipitate counſels, ſerve only to encreaſe the diſeaſe which they pretend to cure. The inflamed ſtate of the ſubject requires a tender hand, and lenient applications. "We have already tried what advantage is to be found in governing by force, and have no reaſon to be proud of the experiment." The great concerns of a great nation ſhould be meaſured upon a ſcale of proportionable magnitude. To ſpeak again in the words of a wiſe and benevolent Prelate—"A great, liberal, commanding ſpirit is wanting; ſuch as has appeared rarely in modern times, but was better known to the Antients; which, without computing and calculating what is ſtrictly due, can extort affection and gratitude by public ſervices—which can ſacrifice little, and even great intereſts to the eſtabliſhment of a ſolid, permanent authority, founded on juſtice and moderation—which, permitting her ſubjects to enjoy and improve all their natural advantages, can always avail herſelf of their wealth and numbers for the defence or glory of the empire, and is ſure to find the moſt powerful reſources of government in their friendſhip and love."

Let juſtice and moderation govern the exerciſe of our ſupreme authority over the colonies, and they will embrace us again with hearts full of joy and acquieſcence. Let a great and liberal ſpirit go forth from hence, and it will be received in America with ſatisfaction, and obeyed without reluctance. Let the gentle hand of commerce and of requiſition, and not the red right arm of power by arbitrary taxation, draw from her the produce of her ſoil, and the ſurplus, if there be any, of her wealth. She will adminiſter thus to our wants, to our ſtrength, to our grandeur, not only without repining, and without complaint, but with cordiality and zeal. But

——Differe ſummaſſne pudenter
Ac rapias ——— ———

Too long have our regiments inſulted their ſtreets, and our ſhips haraſſed their harbours. Too long have we worn the face, without the advantages of hoſtility. Alas! no advantage can ever be derived from it, becauſe a victory would be our ruin. It would be a conqueſt over ourſelves, over the conſtitution, and the commerce of this country. For if the being taxed by our conſent only, gives by our repreſentatives, be not the vital ſpirit of our conſtitution, what is ſo? If we aid in raviſhing this right from America, with what juſtice can we claim it for ourſelves? Let us not then eſtabliſh a precedent, which may conclude fatally to the whole kingdom.

Is not the commerce with America of the laſt importance to this country? Will a military force or irritating avenging meaſures, retrieve what our ill policy may loſe? Is commerce a ſubject of compulſion? Shedding blood would therefore be an act of ſavage race, not of ſound wiſdom. It will not redeem, but utterly ruin our commerce. But the Americans will not oppoſe force by force. They will uſe a much more irreſiſtible mode of oppoſition. I do not ſpeak to inſult, but to inform. I love and revere this country.—I know it is the wiſh of America to love and revere this country, not as ſlaves but as ſubjects. Their oppoſition will be ſilent, and its operation will be ſure, though ſlow. No cunning can elude, no force can fruſtrate its effects. Our commerce muſt ſink under it. The ſuperior power of this country will endeavour to aid it in vain. That power will find itſelf in the ſituation of Volſcens:

——nec tali conſpicit uſquam
Auſtorem, aut quo ſe ardens immittere poſſit.

And for what is it that we are to hazard theſe conſequences? We are to fix a badge of ſlavery upon America, to eſtabliſh for ourſelves a barren revenue. Have our own burthens received one ſhilling alleviation from this American tax, ſo arbitrarily impoſed, ſo obſtinately maintained? Is there any man in his ſenſes who expects from it any national relief?. On the contrary, are we not this moment at the expence of a military eſtabliſhment in America for this ſole purpoſe, twenty times greater than was ever incurred before in times of peace? If our juſtice is baniſhed, where is our wiſdom? Is not all this increaſing our expences and our diſtreſſes, without an actual, without a probable equivalent? Is it not putting our beſt commercial advantages to the hazard, without any emolument if we ſucceed, without any retribution if we fail? Is this wiſdom, or is it folly in the extreme? Is it ſpirit or infanity? This paradoxial policy which propoſes

Per damna, per cedes ab ipſo
Ducere opes, animumque ferro?

Are theſe the means of relieving the diſtreſſes of this unhappy—this exhauſted country? Becauſe her burthens are already greater than ſhe well can bear, with all her ſources of wealth, are we therefore to lop off one of her beſt, her ſureſt reſources, our American commerce?—That commerce from which the merchant, the trader, the manufacturer, the farmer, all draw the fruits of their toil, and the very means of ſupporting our national burthens. That commerce from which the beſt bulwark of our iſland, the navy, derives the ſtrongeſt ſinews of her ſtrength. That commerce which already furniſhes ſuch conſiderable ſupplies for the ſupport of government.

Theſe will be our triumphs—theſe our ſucceſſes. But will theſe feed the ſtarving manufacturer? Will they reimburſe the ruined merchant? Will they compenſate the injured revenue? Will they man our navy, or miniſter any relief to the whole kingdom under the diſtreſs of a general ſtagnation of manufactures and of trade? Will it ſatisfy the calls of hunger, or alleviate the diſtreſs of bankruptcy, to read in the papers that our troops have put fifty thouſand Americans to the ſword; our fleets have laid the cities of Boſton and New-York in aſhes?

When we talk of maintaining our power over the colonies by ſevere laws and military force, we ſhould conſider the wiſdom of Queen Mary's obſervation, which applies equally here——"That the ſtate of every King conſiſts more aſſuredly in the love of the ſubjectss towards their Prince, than in the dread of laws made with rigorous pain*."

When the diſtreſſes our conduct will, in all human probability, occaſion, bear hard upon us; when the emergency of a war calls for our military force at home, and all our ſtrength abroad, it will then be too late to recollect the wiſe obſervation which Tacitus aſcribes to a Britiſh King, when this country felt its day of foreign oppreſſion.—Metus et terror ea infirma vincula caritatis; quæ ubi removeris, qui timere deſierunt, odiſſe incipiant. Dread and terror are but weak bonds of attachment; and upon their diſſolution, when fear ends hatred begins.

JUNIUS AMERICANUS.

Governor JOHNSTONE's SPEECH on the BILL for BLOCKADING the Town of BOSTON.

Mr. Speaker,

I FIND ſo much difficulty in pronouncing my ſentiments at any time, that, unleſs the Houſe is kindly diſpoſed to hear me, at this late hour, I ſhall patiently ſit down, becauſe I am conſcious it will require their greateſt indulgence, to enable me to expreſs myſelf in a manner worthy of their attention. A modeſty, becoming my ſituation, prevented me from offering my opinion before, when I ſaw men of ſo much ſuperior ability ſtarting from the beginning of the debate.

It may appear arrogant in a member ſo inferior, as I confeſs myſelf to be, to offer objections to a Bill ſo extenſive in its conſequences under every conſideration, eſpecially after it muſt have been ſo maturely conſidered, in every article, by men ſo diſtinguiſhed by their talents and high ſituations in office, beſides the general applauſe which has followed the Bill in its rapid progreſs through this Houſe. Nevertheleſs, though naturally diffident of my own opinion, when I had the good or bad fortune (I don't know which to term it) of prognoſticating, to the Chairman of the Eaſt-India Company, the conſequences of ſending this Tea, on their own account, to America, and that the event has literally fulfilled my words, as it is well known to ſome Members now in my eye, it makes me more confident in warning the Houſe of what I apprehend will be the conſequences of this Bill.

I told the Chairman of the Eaſt-India Company, firſt in converſation, on aſking my opinion, and afterwards by letter, that the evidence might appear in the progreſs of things; that I conceived the Eaſt-India Company exporting Tea on their own account, was, under every conſideration of their ſituation and inſtitution, WRONG, but, under the preſent diſcontents and diſputed matters of Government in America, CRIMINALLY ABSURD becauſe they were preſenting themſelves as the butt in the controverſy, where they would probably come off with the loſs of the whole. The event has juſtified my prediction; for whatever re-payment the Company may obtain from the town of Boſton, under thoſe cruel coercive meaſures now propoſed, (the effect of which I ſtill doubt,) yet the Company muſt remain great loſers, even if the other Provinces, equally culpable, are made to refund the loſs ariſing from their conduct, becauſe it was not ſupplies of caſh at a diſtant period the Company wanted, but an IMMEDIATE SUPPLY, to anſwer a temporary exigency, which a combination of the enemies of the Company had produced.

I now venture to predict to this Houſe, that the effect of the preſent Bill muſt be productive of a general confederacy, to reſiſt the power of this country. It is irritating, tempting, nay, inviting men to thoſe deeds, by ineffectual expedients, the abortions of an undeciſive mind, incapable of comprehending the chain of conſequences, which muſt reſult from ſuch a Law.—I am not one of thoſe who believe that diſtant Provinces can be retained in their duty by preaching or enchantments; I believe that FORCE or POWER, conducted with WISDOM, are the means of ſecuring regular obedience under every eſtabliſhment, but that ſuch force ſhould never be applied to any degree of rigour, unleſs it ſhall carry the general approbation of mankind in the execution. However much ſuch approbation may prevail at the particular moment in this Houſe, it is impoſſible to believe the ſenſe of Great-Britain, or the ſenſe of America, can go to the puniſhing a PARTICULAR TOWN, for reſiſting the payment of the Tea-Tax, which is univerſally ODIOUS throughout America, and is held in ridicule and contempt by every thinking man in this country.—The queſtion of taxing America is ſufficiently nice to palliate reſiſtance, if the ſubject had never been litigated in this country; but, after the higheſt characters in the State had declared againſt the Right of this Country to impoſe Taxes in America, for the purpoſes of Revenue; after the general voice of the Senate had concurred in REPEALING THE STAMP ACT, upon that principle; after thoſe men, who had maintained theſe doctrines, had been promoted by his Majeſty to the firſt ſtations in the adminiſtration of civil and judicial affairs, there is ſo much mitigation to be pleaded in favour of the Americans, from thoſe circumſtances, (allowing them in an error at preſent) that every man muſt feel the height of cruelty, by enforcing contrary maxims, with any degree of ſeverity, at firſt, before due warning is given.

It is in vain to ſay that Boſton is more culpable than the other Colonies; ſending the ſhips from thence, and obliging them to return to England, is a more ſolemn and deliberate act of reſiſtance than the outrage committed by perſons in diſguiſe in the night, when the ſhip refuſed to depart. That of blocking up the harbour of Boſton to prevent the importation of Britiſh manufactures, or the exportation of goods which are to pay for them, is a meaſure equally as abſurd as if the Parliament here, upon the reſiſtance which was made to their reſolution, by the riots at Brentford, and other diſturbances in the county of Middleſex, had decreed, by way of puniſhment, that the Freeholders ſhould have been prohibited from ſowing of wheat. For whoſe benefit do the inhabitants of Boſton toil and labour? The ſprings in the circle of commerce bear ſo nicely on each other, that few men can tell by interrupting one, the degree and extent to which the reſt may be expoſed. By excluding the importation of Molaſſes, and the exportation of that ſpirit which is diſtilled at Boſton, the whole Guiney Trade will be affected, and in conſequence the Sugar Trade that depends upon it. In extending this kind of puniſhment to the other Colonies, every one muſt ſee the danger; and yet, if it can be proved for one, the ſame arguments will hold good to approve or reject it reſpecting the other. But let any man figure to himſelf the conſequences to this country, if a ſimilar puniſhment was applied to the Colony of Virginia; 300,000*l.* a year dimunition in Revenue, beſides the loſs of all the foreign Contracts, and perhaps of that beneficial trade for ever. Notwithſtanding the general approbation which has been given to this Bill, and the loud applauſes which have been re-echoed to every word of the noble Lord in explaining it, yet no man will be bold enough to ſay, that this PARTIAL PUNISHMENT is a remedy for the general diſeaſe, and yet without knowing what is to follow, no man can be vindicated (even ſuppoſing the Bill right in part) for giving his aſſent to it. Thoſe Gentlemen who are in the ſecrets of the Cabinet, and know aſſuredly every propoſition from them is adopted by this Houſe, may be excuſed for their ſanguine acclamations in favour of the meaſure. But the general maſs, who muſt be equally ignorant with myſelf of what is to follow, can have no excuſe for giving their aſſent ſo readily for puniſhing their fellow-ſubjects in ſo unprecedented a manner, and their eager zeal ſhew how ready they are to obey the will of another, without exerciſing their own judgment in the caſe. If the government of this country, is reſiſted in America, my opinion is, inſtead of removing the ſeat of Government to the Colony, and forcing the elements to bend to our will, which is impoſſible, that an effectual force ſhould be carried to the heart of the Colony reſiſting, to cruſh rebellion in the bud before a general confederacy can be formed. In the preſent caſe we abandon the Government, and drive the inhabitants to deſpair, leaving the multitude a prey to any ambitious ſpirit that may ariſe. For my own part I am convinced, from experience in the Colonies, that good Government may be conducted there upon rational grounds, as well as in this country; but the power and means of governing, rewards and puniſhments, are taken from your ſupreme executive Magiſtrate in every ſenſe, and then you are ſurpriſed that all order and obedience ſhould ceaſe. The Colonies can only be governed by their own Aſſemblies, as England by the Houſe of Commons; the Patent Offices, as well as thoſe in the Cuſtoms, which were formerly given at the recommendation of the Governors, to men ſupporting Government, and reſiding in the Provinces, are now given in reverſion three or four lives deep, to men living in this country. The command of the Military, which was another great ſource of reſpect and obedience, is likewiſe taken from the Governor, ſo that in TRUTH he remains an inſignificant Pageant of State, fit only to tranſmit tedious accounts of his own ridiculous ſituation; or, like a Doctor of the Sorbonne, to debate with his Aſſembly about abſtract doctrines in Government.

I am far from wiſhing to throw any blame upon Governor Hutchinſon, or to condemn him, like the town of Boſton, unheard. The abſence of the man, and the general clamour againſt him, will reſtrain me from ſaying many things reſpecting his conduct, which appear reprehenſible. But I cannot admit a paſſage in the ſpeech of a noble Lord to paſs unnoticed. His Lordſhip alledges, "that the Governor could not apply to the Admiral in "the harbour, or to the commanding officer of the troops "in the caſtle, for the protection of the Cuſtom-Houſe "officers, as well as teas in queſtion, WITHOUT the "advice of his Council." But I beg leave to inform the noble Lord, as I ſerved in that ſtation myſelf, that there is a volume of inſtructions to every Governor on this ſubject, whereby he is commanded, under the ſevereſt penalties, "to give all kind of protection to" trade and commerce, as well "as to the officers of his Majeſty's "Cuſtoms, by his own authority, without the neceſſity "of acting through his Council." Nor can I conceive a poſſible excuſe for the deſtruction of thoſe teas, while two men of war lay in the harbour, without the leaſt application having been made to the Admiral for protection, during ſo long a tranſaction.

The firſt eſſential point in thoſe diſputes which are now likely to become ſo ſerious by the weakneſs of Adminiſtration in this country in following no connected plan, either of force or favour, but conſtantly vibrating between the two, is to put ourſelves in the right, and for this purpoſe I would recommend the immediate REPEAL OF THE TEA DUTY, which can be vindicated upon no principles, either of commerce or policy. Men may allege this would be giving up the point. But if we have no better points to diſpute upon, I am ready to yield the argument. Raiſing taxes in America for the purpoſes of REVENUE, I maintain to be unneceſſary and dangerous. A STAMP-ACT, as a meaſure of police, varied for the different Governments, and leaving the Revenue raiſed thereby to be appropriated by the reſpective Legiſlatures, I hold to be a meaſure of the higheſt efficacy, for maintaining a due obedience to the authority of this country, and prolonging that dependence for ages to come. How far it can be executed after what has already paſſed, I am rather diffident, but of this I am certain, that in caſe Great-Britain is deprived of executing a meaſure of that nature, which by pervading every tranſaction ſecures the execution in itſelf, ſhe has loſt one of the greateſt engines for ſupporting her influences throughout the Empire without oppreſſion. Some men who are for ſimplifying Government to their own comprehenſions will not allow they can conceive that the ſupreme legiſlative authority ſhall not be paramount in all things, and taxation being fully comprehended in Legiſlation, they argue, that the power of the one muſt neceſſarily follow that of the other; and yet we find mankind poſſeſſed of privileges which are not to be violated in the moſt arbitrary countries. The province of Languedoc is a ſtriking example in refutation of the doctrines reſpecting taxation, which are held by ſuch narrow obſervers. The kingdom of Ireland is another inſtance, in our exempting Ireland from taxation by the Parliament of Great-Britain, that does not equally protect the Colonies from the power of ſuch partial judges. Every man ſhould now call to his remembrance by what obſtinate infatuation Philip II. came to loſe the United Provinces. Can it be ſuppoſed that in a nation ſo wiſe as Spain was at that time, that no man perceived the injuſtice and futility of the meaſure in diſpute? But I can eaſily ſuppoſe, from the pride of authority, where our vanity is ſo much flattered, that no man durſt venture a propoſition for receding from that cruel meaſure, after it had been reſiſted by violence.

Theſe are the general heads.

The particular objections to the Bill are, firſt for continuing the puniſhment "until ſatisfaction ſhall be made to the India Company," without ſtating the amount, or what that ſatisfaction ſhall be. Next, "until peace and good order ſhall be certified to be reſtored," when it is impoſſible, as to the ſubject in diſpute, that ſuch certificate can ever be granted, becauſe the cuſtom-houſe officers are removed, and all trade and commerce prohibited. The numerous diſputes and litigations which muſt neceſſarily ariſe in carrying this law into execution, on contract made by parties before they could be apprized of it, and the diſpatch of ſhips in harbour, under the limited time, without any exception for the deſertion of ſeamen, or wind and weather, is altogether melancholy to conſider! The power given to the Admiral or Chief Commander to order the ſhips returning from foreign voyages, to ſuch ſtations he ſhall direct, is wild, vexatious, and indefinite. That of permitting his Majeſty to alter the value of all the property in the town of Boſton, upon reſtoring the Port, by affixing ſuch quays and wharfs, as HE ONLY ſhall appoint for landing and ſhipping of goods, is liable to ſuch miſrepreſentation and abuſe, that I expect to ſee every evil follow the exerciſe of it, and it muſt create infinite jealouſies and diſtraction among the people.

I am therefore of opinion, that this Bill, both from the principle and manner in which it has been paſſed, and from ſore-running the general regulations that are intended, and which ought at leaſt to accompany it, inſtead of quieting the diſturbances in Boſton, it will promote them ſtill further, and induce the inhabitants to cut off all communication with your ſhips of war, which may be productive of mutual hoſtilities, and moſt probably will end in a GENERAL REVOLT.

CHARLES-TOWN, JUNE 6.

LAST Tuesday Morning a PACKET was received here, diſpatched from on board the Brigantine Seanymph, Capt. Moore, (who was then off Bull's-Iſland, but did not get in till the next Day) from a very reſpectable Committee at Philadelphia, incloſing Letters from other Committees, and containing the firſt Intelligence of the paſſing of the Act of Parliament for blockading the Town of Boſton, inſerted in our GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY of Friday laſt—which, if we may judge from the Indignation with which it is every where received, will prove the crudeſt Policy that ever diſgraced a Britiſh Senate, and be the very Means to perfect that Union in America, which it was intended to deſtroy, and finally reſtore the excellent Conſtitution even of the Mother Country itſelf.

The laſeſt Advices from London, ſay, that the Parliamentary Bakers were then hard at Work, making Gingerbread Cakes, ſuperbly gilt, impreſſed with, "ANOTHER ACT OF PARLIAMENT,"—to tempt the Reſt of the Colonies to deſert the devoted Inhabitants of Boſton, and in them the Common Cauſe of America.

We have the Pleaſure to obſerve, that of the Twenty-nine Gentlemen who dared to ſubſcribe their Names to the Petition preſented to both Houſes of Parliament, againſt the Boſton Port Bill, there are no leſs than eleven Natives of this Province, viz. William Middleton, Henry Laurens, Ralph Izard, Iſaac Motte, Philip Neyle, John Peronneau, Edward Fenwicke, William Middleton, jun. Thomas Pinckney, William-Haſell Gibbs, and William Blake.

Laſt Wedneſday, JUNE the 1ſt, the memorable Day on which the Blockade of the Town of Boſton was to commence, the very Elements, at this Diſtance, were in ſuch Commotion, between four and five o'Clock in the Afternoon, that all the Veſſels lying at the Wharves were torne from them in an Inſtant, ſeveral of them much damaged, four Scooners were overſet, and it was ſcarce poſſible to ſee acroſs even the narroweſt Street in Town. A great deal of Damage was alſo done in the Country, where Abundance of growing Corn, many Fences, and ſome ſlight Houſes were thrown down. During this Commotion, in our Air, there was more ſharp Lightning, and leſs Thunder heard, than uſual—and we have had no ſettled Weather ſince.

The Scooner St Ann of Jamaica, and Scooner Polly of Georgia, and a Scooner belonging to William Gibbes, Eſq; were among the Veſſels that overſet——the Ship Bacchus of Liverpoole, carried away its Main-top-maſt, the Sloop Freemaſon loſt her Bowſprit, and the Scooner Charming Betſy, its Rudder. Mr. Gibbes loſt two valuable Slaves, but we do not hear of any more Lives loſt.

The General Aſſembly of this Province is to meet here To morrow.

Saturday laſt being the King's Birth-Day, when His Majeſty entered into the 36th Year of his Age, the ſame was obſerved here in the uſual Way, i. e. the Bells were rang—Colours diſplayed—Guns at the Forts fired—the Militia were reviewed—and His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor had Company to dine with him in the Council-Chamber—but there was not a ſingle Houſe illuminated at Night, nor any other Demonſtration of Joy; the People lamenting that ſo good a Prince ſhould be beſet by a Miniſtry who ſeem to have ſtudied to alienate rather than preſerve the Affections of his moſt loyal Subjects.

Yeſterday Morning died, univerſally lamented, Mr. Knight Giball—a moſt worthy Gentleman.

Yeſterday the new Main, Main-top, and Main-top-gallant Maſts of the Snow Nancy, Capt. Threſher, which put in here, diſmaſted, ſome time ago, was ſtruck and ſhivered to Pieces by Lightning.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, APRIL 19, 1774.

WHEREAS His Majesty, by His Royal Instruction, dated at ST. JAMES's, the 3d Day of February, 1774, has thought proper to establish new Orders and Regulations for the future Disposal of his Lands in this Province, excepting to such reduced Officers and Soldiers as Lands are directed to be granted to by his Royal Proclamation dated October 7th, 1773, but has, nevertheless, been most graciously pleased to signify, That it is not his Intention that those Persons who have hitherto obtained Orders in Council, or Warrants of Survey, for Lands in America, should be precluded, by the said Instruction, from carrying those Orders and Warrants into Execution, conformable to the Directions contained therein, or, that any Claim to a Grant for Lands, founded on any antecedent Step that can, in Equity, give a Title to such Grant, should be thereby precluded:

I DO HEREBY GIVE PUBLIC NOTICE THEREOF to all Persons concerned, and the several Officers in this Province are hereby directed to carry the said Warrants and Orders into Execution, that Grants may be passed for the same: But,

That the new Regulations, directed by the said Instruction, may not be impeded, ALL PERSONS are hereby required to carry the said Grants through the several Offices within Three Months from the Date hereof,

By Order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

JAMES SIMPSON, C. C.

The only two distinguishing Marks that run through the most of them are these, viz. The Figures in the numbering are very bad, and the Names of the Signers are impressed by the Plate, instead of being wrote with a Pen.
